

How to Draw a Running Mouse

Have you ever
drawn a running
mouse? Cause I have. First, you draw a oval with one half circle. Next, you

draw a circle in the big half circle and
draw a thin rectangle
for the body. Do you know what else living things need? That's right! Everything need arms and legs. Then,
you draw 1 zigzag

twice. Now your running mouse should look like this. After all that, you can start adding details. Wait!

Did we forget something? We forgot the mouth! After that,

you make a small
half circle with a
oval at the end of
it. Now we need to do the tail. The tail is easy. You should have it done in a

blink of an eye. Ok?

Now we draw two

wiggly lines that

connect at the back.

Last, you can add

more details to your drawing! Now you know what to do. So get a peice of paper

and a pencil and get to work!
